Do you currently have a case in immigration court? <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> Yes Please be aware that our firm is not currently accepting clients with active cases in immigration court. Indiana is under the jurisdiction of the Chicago court, and we have previously represented clients there. However, it has recently become more difficult to represent clients at such a distance due to increased unpredictability of the cases and judges who are not allowing us to appear by telephone. Therefore, we now believe it is in immigrants' best interests to hire an attorney with an office in Chicago (or in the city of the immigration court where your case is pending). Our firm takes pride in always recommending the course of action we believe is best for you, even if it means turning down work! Please contact us for a refund of your consultation fee and a list of attorneys and non-profits who may be able to represent you.
